Echoes '71

Dedication

We the staff of Echoes '71 dedicate this yearbook to our Lord and to His service.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Dear Students:

You have played a role in writing the history of Blue Mountain Academy throughout the 1970-1971 school year. Although your contribution may have been small it was a part of the overall picture which gave the school its perspective.

As you recount the experiences of this year, allow God to use them to further your Christian growth. If you are faithful in overcoming in small matters you will have the moral power to withstand great temptations. Remember it is faithfulness in little things that tests your character. In order to do great things for God you must first be faithful in the little everyday things of life.

It has been a pleasure assisting you in your educational development and watching your progress from month to month. As you continue to serve your creator on the earth and look forward to the future, I would commend to you the following counsel: "Success in this life, success in gaining the future life, depends upon a faithful conscientious attention to the little things." Patriarchs and Prophets, p. 158.

Your friend,

M. W. Shultz

Buildings

A building's worth is not determined by appearance but by service, and the number of people who through it find light, true knowledge, and the meaning of life.

Just For

As each individual forms a part of the mass, so each personality contributes to the whole. By participating in small events there is an opportunity to enlarge horizons and to strengthen the bonds of friendship.

Fun

Work

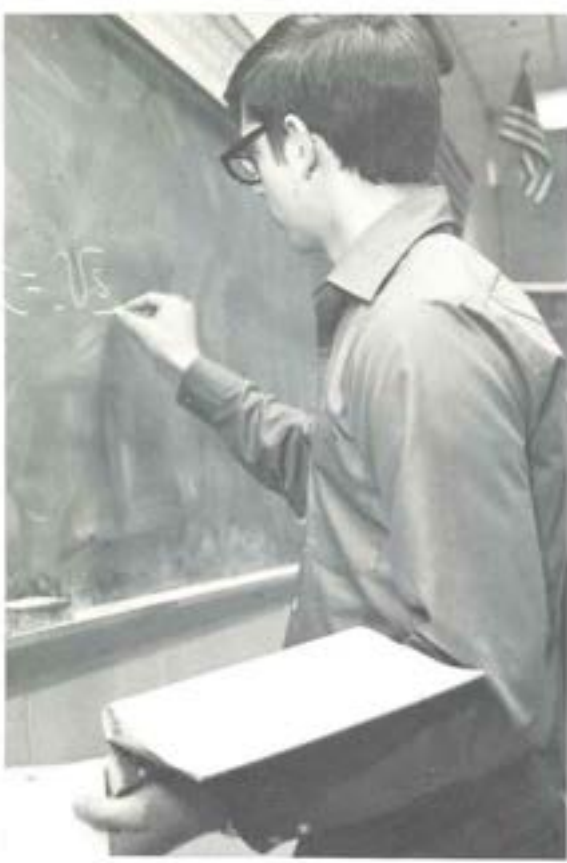

No matter how small the job is, whether buffing floors or cutting lettuce, a student can receive worthwhile training and learn responsibility.

Study

Through study one can discover the talents that God has given him, no matter how small, and develop them to their full capacity.

Worship

The Christian life, as symbolized by the cross, is built by faithfully following the Lord in every small detail of life.

The faculty and staff of Blue Mountain Academy are capable, God-fearing men and women who offer their students guidance for moral development and prepare them for future challenges in life.

The Intramural program provides a Christian competitive spirit and teaches good sportsmanship.

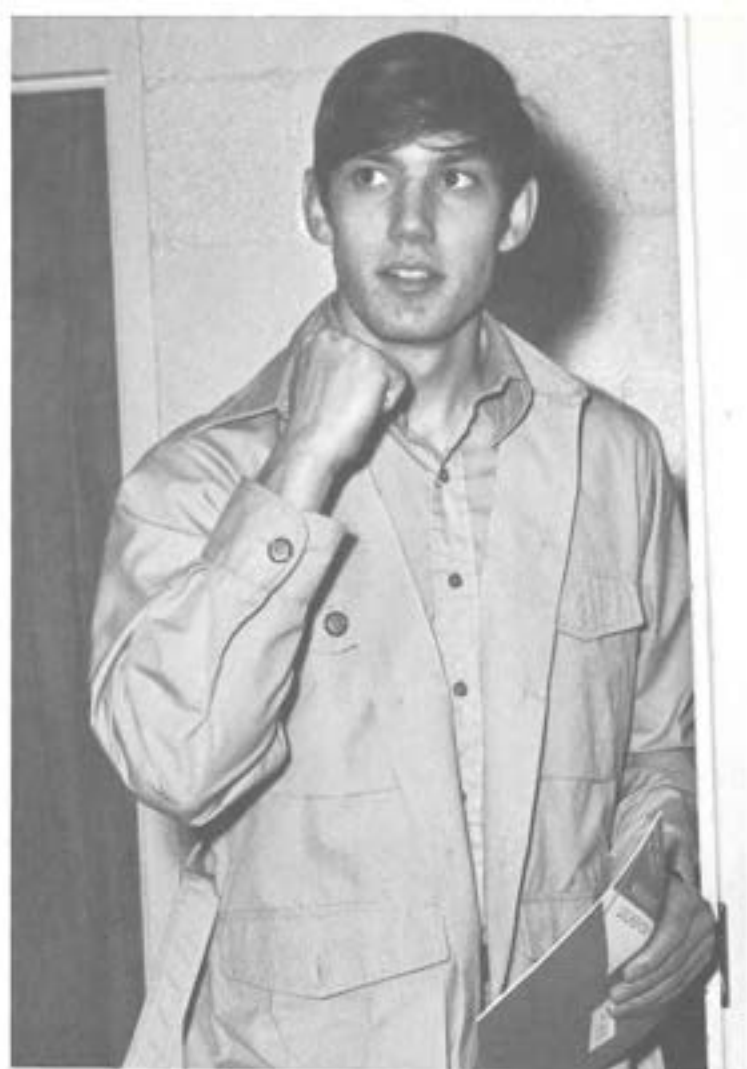

As the leaders of Blue Mountain Academy, the Seniors have many responsibilities. They are looked up to by the other students for both academic and religious examples. As their aim and motto states, may the Seniors of '71 truly be "a rising hope for a dying world." The class officers are John Lazaration, President; Valerie Wuchenich, Vice President; Cheryl Becker, Secretary; Linda Gray, Treasurer; Del Johnson, Pastor; and Lonney Johnson, Sergeant at Arms. Mr. Baldwin and Elder Kainer are the sponsors.

Bells, room-check, a rainy day, punching in and out, a soccer game, a place to study, and friendship are some of the little but important things we will never forget.

Memories
