

WITH THE beginning of the 1980's it is natural to reminisce about the past decade. At the end of the school year it is also natural to remember all of the experiences that took place during the year.

Echoes 1980 is a permanent record of your past year at Blue Mountain Academy. We hope that as you look at the annual in future years the pictures and copy it holds will bring memories to mind that will be as sparkling and bright as the morning sun that breaks through the cloud covered sky -

Like the time you thought that your heart would burst
when "she" smiled at you . . .

all that "hard" work in the cafeteria . . .

the confusion that almost made you go crazy before you got into the "groove" . . . and all of the other experiences that go along with academy life.

While some of the times you remember may not have been happy, we hope that over the years they will only be remembered for the lessons gained from them.

So even if the unpleasant experiences make you feel down, cheer up and relive those happy memories portrayed on the pages of this yearbook which is dedicated to the remembrance of those memories.

THE CAMPUS

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Dear Students,

Our school year may have come to its conclusion however the process of education continues. Experiences never dreamed of in September have occurred. New vistas have been reached and new concepts have been mastered. But we do not stop here — learning will take place throughout eternity.

It is the goal of your instructors to acquaint you with the source of true Knowledge so that when the gates of heaven are opened to admit God's children you will be able to hear from the lips of Jesus the benediction "Come ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world." (Matt. 25:34)

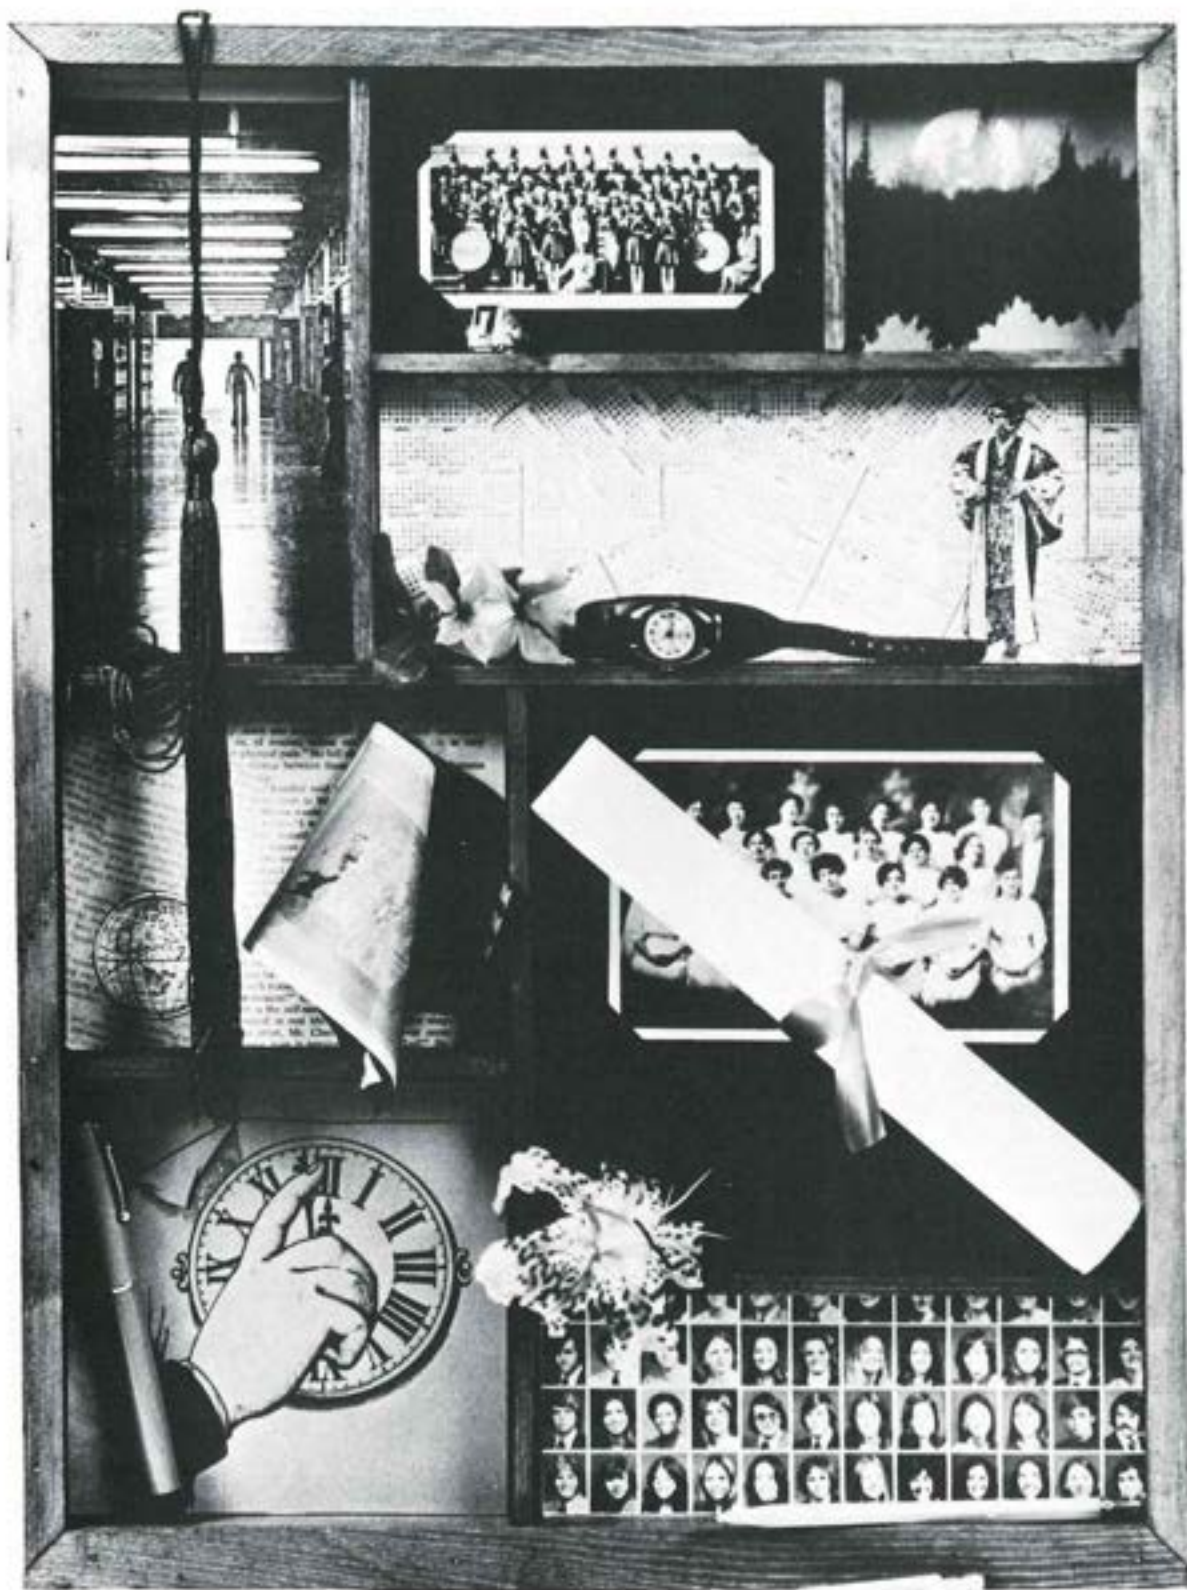

We have a divine appointment to meet in the northeast corner of the New Jerusalem to continue our education. I am looking forward to seeing you!

Your friend,

Wayne Longhofer

SENIOR RECOGNITION

As lightning foretells the approaching of a storm; bright smiles touched with eager tenseness foretold the approaching of a different kind of storm.

The weekend of November 2 & 3 was certainly honored to bear subject to such a storm - as the Senior Class of 1980 finally unwound their fury of talents on the campus of Blue Mountain Academy. It was a time of present recognition and future remembrance that happened all too quickly! Differing in respect to the storm was the mark it left behind; that of deep and warm memories to be engraved in the walls of our minds for as long as life allows!

ACTIVITIES

REGISTRATION

Lines . . . lines . . . lines . . . Registration day consisted mainly of standing in lines, and long lines they were! A line for work . . . for class schedules . . . for music . . . for sports. "Smile!" and your Preview picture was snapped! But amid all the lines friendships were rekindled and many new ones made.

The day climaxed with the traditional Faculty/Student Handshake. After 400 "hellos" and 400 handshakes the long day finally ended.

PICNIC

After four years of tough competition, the Senior class of 1980 finally got their act together. September 9, 1979 was their "Day of Glory" when they gained their very first victory at the annual Fall Picnic.

The scores were close and the competition was hot. The only thing that kept things cooled down was a generous supply of water balloons.

LEADERSHIP CAMPOUT

CAMPOUT

What an evening! The girls' dorm was transformed into four different countries. The different halls became Hawaii, France, Mexico, and the Netherlands.

The tour of the dorm climaxed with a stroll through the beautifully furnished Worship Room.

This year there was a special treat. Instead of the traditional movie, students from CUC brought us a play. Everyone enjoyed seeing Snoopy in "Your a Good Man Charlie Brown."

Rabbi Dunn, Master of Ceremonies

On the evening of January 19, our B.M.A. Chapel seemed to attract an unusually large audience for our Saturday night program. The gossip had it that we were to be favored to witness a rare group of actors performing with amazing talent. The name of this group was something like — B.M.A. FACULTY!

On the stroke of 8:00, Pastor Wallace strode onto the chapel stage bringing with him his creative antics and colorful talk as a means of extending a hearty welcome to all.

This began a two hour program centered around everything but boredom. It was amusing to see the faculty's "other" side. From one performance to another, everyone listened intently, watched in awe, and laughed whole-heartedly!

One of the opening numbers featured a "girl" in ponytails with a young "boy" who liked to see what his arm could DO! Mr. Baldwin had a lucky night when he presented his red roses to a charming lass, but his luck didn't last too long! We were also privileged to see and hear one of the famed Dr. Stitches Longknifer's operations and the result on our poor John Cardoso.

At 10:00 the curtain opened to display the awaiting backstage finale. A stage cast of faculty, assuming to portray a band, held on to an instrument piece, and attempted to make music. Sound was produced — not to forget Mrs. Ferguson hidden behind the tuba and Mr. Streidl on the drums. All in all, this was faculty talent at its best!

FACULTY TALENT

It was the Saturday night before Christmas homeleave,
When everyone soon would go home to his house.
All the teachers were present, and students aglow,
But everyone was anything but quiet as a mouse.
It was time for the X-mas party sponsored by S.A.,
When students and faculty could celebrate the season,
Our first stop was the cafeteria which was clustered with goodies.

A feast of ice-cream was plenty good pleas'n!
To the gym we waddled, tummies a full,
Not knowing what we were going to do.
Then after addressing letter, after letter, after letter!
A movie and date made it all better!
When the movie ended, the program did not,
For a visitor was on his jolly 'ole way;
Then Santa entered with candy a fly'n,
And said, "I told ya I'd be back another day."
From there toward the dorms we all ran so anxiously,
With thoughts of X-mas in our heads.
And knew it had been "to all a good night,"
When we snuggled deep down in our beds!

This year's Junior Presentation was a first.

The class of 1981 accomplished what no other Junior class ever attempted. They undertook the task of performing a play.

The Juniors really showed what they are made of in their talented performance of "Cheaper By The Dozen." The play depicted the home life of a family of twelve back in the 1920's. Other talents were also exhibited. Between acts there were musical numbers and skits.

With a lot of hard work and support from all of the Juniors, the whole Presentation was a success.

School is expensive. We know that. And we know that most students need a job to make ends meet. Columbia Union College's work-study program has successfully placed many students in situations where they can grow professionally while they're earning. Banks, research institutes, medical facilities, professional organizations, government offices. The CUC student is given an opportunity to work in his chosen field side by side with top professionals. The opportunities and options can be yours, too.

is only
the beginning.

Dear Marianne,

What a thrill it has been to share our lives with you. Some joy, a little sadness, but always with God at our side to encourage & guide. Congratulations "Shug" on your scholastic achievement. Let God lead.

Love,

Mother & Dad

To Andrea,

Your success you well deserve, congratulations dear. You've got what you have worked for, month by month and year by year . . . The effort and the sacrifice has not been made in vain, for you have achieved the goal you set out to attain. You have done your very best and no one can do more. May it bring a rich reward — whatever lies in store. Nothing can deprive you. The honor you have won, happy may your future be — well done, my child, well done.
From Mother

Dear Karen,

We are proud of you! May the Lord always be your companion as you go forward into the unknown ahead.

Love,

Mom, Dad, Jan, Andrew & Tucker

Congratulations

To: Randy Nash

May you do your very best in what ever you choose to do in life. This is what God expects of you. Stay close to HIM.

Lovingly,

Mom & Dad

Congratulations, Eric!

We have missed you at home during these four years; but we were happy to know that you regarded BMA as a second home.

Love always,

Mom, Dad and Lisa
