Eun-Kyung Lee looks blankly off to the side as someone snaps a picture of her in her deepest thoughts. I wonder what she's thinking about?

Kyle Kennedy, Frank Vazquez, and Joe Harris get ready to dig in as they compete for the pie eating contest at the SA Fall Picnic.

Seth Hannah, Kimberly Noel, Pauline Sakyi and Cleah Furtlick hang out together on the stage during class parties. I think this is the start of beautiful friendships.

Maribel Echevarria and Betty Treill watch their step as they cross over Boulder Field during BMA Leadership.

Carol Corbin prepares to take a picture while someone takes a snapshot of her at the SA Picnic.

Gordon McWatters and Ted Allen watch in amazement as Dwayne Hardware sings and plays a melody sweet sounding to their ears at the SA Fall Picnic.

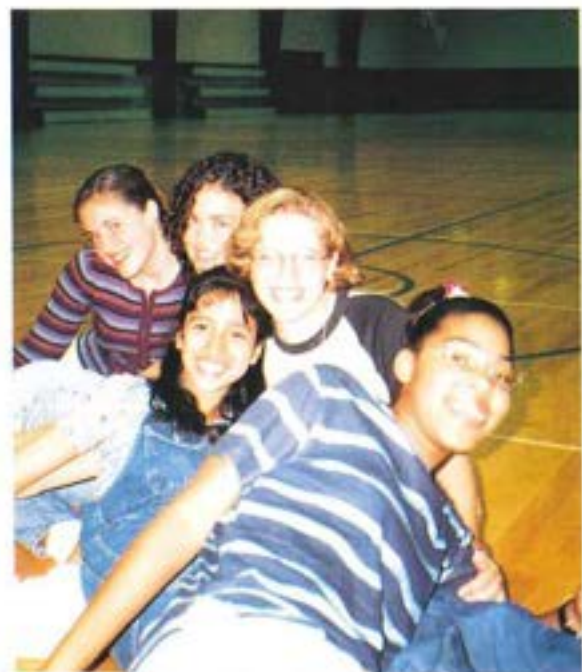

Nirvana Seepurshad talks anxiously on the phone to her family and friends in the lobby of Ellis Hall.

Mr. Spencer Hannah eagerly embraces his cinnamon bun with a smile after his long day of work.

Samantha Fleary, Tiffany Burton, Rachelle Ware, Priscilla Frimpong, Michele Harris, Kelly Leach, Cynthia Azolin, and Khalid Larkin spend quality time smiling together at the annual SA Fall Picnic. It was a day filled with rest and relaxation for those watching the events.

Principal's Message

Long ago, though perhaps you didn't realize it, God put you on a "Highway to Hamburg." Nothing happens by accident. Yes, you do have the power of choice. You allowed God to lead you to Blue Mountain Academy.

As you read, this the '97-'98 school year is history. You are continuing your travels down the highway of your life. I hope the time you spent at Blue Mountain Academy this year proved profitable in speeding up your progress toward the destination to which the "Highway to Hamburg" was pointing. There are two roads, you know, and only two. I pray you're still on the narrow one, though it is quite a climb!

"Enter through the narrow gate. For wide is the gate and broad is the road that leads to destruction, and many enter through it. But small is the gate and narrow the road that leads to life, and only a few find it." Matthew 7:13,14 (NIV)

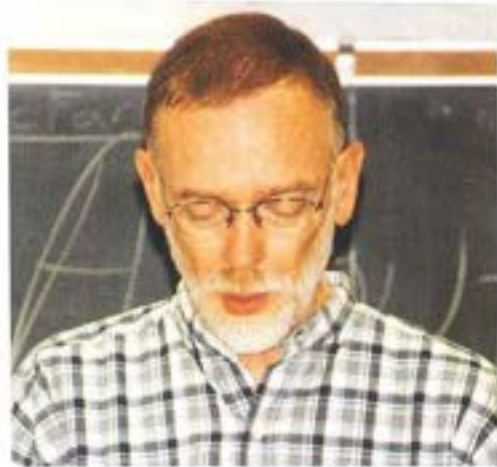

I hope this year has stretched your abilities. I hope you've been asked to do what you didn't think you could. I hope you've realized how helpless you are without Jesus and how powerful you are with Him. I hope you know He loves you unconditionally, and I hope you are experiencing the dramatic transformation He longs to give you.

The stretch of road you traveled from August, 1997, to June, 1998, is pictured in this book. I hope it propelled you from the "Highway to Hamburg" to the "Highway to Heaven!"

-Principal Stan Rouse

Dedicated to Mr. Edison

A master can tell you what he expects of you. A teacher, though, awakens your own expectations.

-Patricia Neal

Many people play important roles in our lives. Among them are celebrities, parents, teachers and friends. Often they are given no recognition for their services. They are just thrown in the background where they are hidden from the spotlight.

The 1997-98 "Echoes" is dedicated to a man worthy of great praise. He is one who fits the description of an unsung hero.

Mr. Edison, you have inspired and touched each of our lives. You were there both in and out of the classroom, and we appreciate that. Whether it be a question on a difficult equation or the need for someone to talk to, you have the answers. We will always remember you for your caring and understanding ways.

Music, they say, is a language the whole world understands. Your continuous dedication to the music program here has had a profound effect on all our lives. From driving and playing in La Sonnette, to playing the French horn in band, to teaching lessons to those who share the same passion for music as you do, has most definitely influenced our hearts and the love for music you helped develop.

In addition to all this running around, you still somehow manage to run the computer lab, which is vital to the functioning of this school. This is a primary source of our communication with the outside world and the source for our term papers. You have built, installed, and continue to manage computers, not only for the students but for the entire school. Each department has been blessed by your hard work and perspiration.

Mr. Edison, your service for Blue Mountain Academy, the students, the staff, but most of all God, will always linger in the hallways of the Ad Building, in the fields of rec, in the tunes of band, in the "logins" of computers, in the walls of classrooms where learning and laughter were combined to make the periods interesting, and throughout all eternity. Your listening ear and helping hand will always be remembered as a model for future generations. Thank you so much for all the things you have done to make our lives more fulfilling. Now we want to take the time out to repay you with a little token of our appreciation. Thank you!

A teacher affects eternity, he can never tell where his influence stops.

David Charlestream greets everyday with a smile in his comfortable bed in Linruh Hall. He looks real cozy, don't you think?

Becky Williams eagerly waits for her turn to run in "Winkum", one of the many games played at the SA Mixer.

Coreen Shakes exuberantly sings to her fellow classmates in hopes of entertaining them.

Coach Eberhardt and Pastor Miller sneak up behind Patty Breece, Betty Treill and Renza Woods during an activity held in the gym.

Jeff Clark concentrates as he tries to win an event at the SA Picnic.

Ben Fellows ponders the meaning of life as he stares blankly at the chalkboard in Mr. Corbin's classroom.

In front of the Ad Buiding is Sylvia Garcia who stares curiously at the camera. Hmmm...

Will You Love Jesus More?

*I feel quite sure if I did my best. I could maybe impress you.
With tender words and harmony. A clever rhyme or two.
But if all I've done in the time we've shared
Is turn your eyes on me
Then I've failed at what I've been called to do
There's someone else I want you to see.*

(Chorus)

*Will you love Jesus more when we go our different ways?
When this moment is a memory will you remember His face?
Will you look back and realize you sensed His love more than you did before?
I pray for nothing less than for you to love Jesus more.*

*I'd like to keep these memories in frames of gold and silver.
And reminisce a year from now about the smiles we've shared.
But above all else I hope you will come to know the Father's love.
And when you see the Lord face to face
You'll hear Him say "well done".*

(Repeat chorus)

Quiet Virdany Feliz takes a walk on the "wild side" as she plays dress up in the dorm.

Karen Corbin works hard at what she does, but somehow she manages to find time to pose in the Business Office.

Heather Young sits in the dorm chapel and concentrates on the service. This is a part of her daily life here at BMA.

Virdany Feliz, Sabra McDonald, Rachelle Hallman, Berta Treitl, Idamis Melendez, Aprille Febre, Karen Corbin, Kelly Cauley, Karlee Marschner, Heather Young, Christina Golden, Patricia Ramirez, Jose Dorta, Eric Nagley, Joseph Destin, Kyle Kennedy, Matt Rutt, Fritza Gouerge, Shemica Crandon, Mildred Brooks, Jeff Clark, Coreen Shakes, Christina Cale, Kerron Warrick, Matt Hockman, Tony Rouse, Ben Fellows, Danny Cates, Ben Lucas

It looks like Shemica Crandon has her hands tied. Do you think that she woke up for breakfast or is she just catching up in the choir room?

14 four-year seniors

Jackeline Duque and Robert Moldovan momentarily stop their conversation to ask the photographer, "What are you doing?", as their picture is taken in the hallways of the Ad Building.

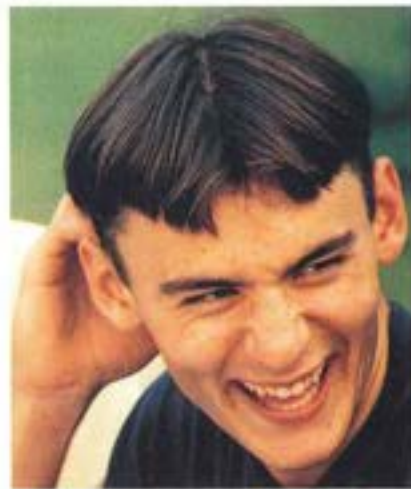

Eric Nagley strikes a pose as Coach Kalua, a speaker for Focus Week, plays director on the set.

Tony Rouse snickers as he scratches his head and contemplates who his next teammate for flag football will be.

As you can see, Heather Barrick does not like being disturbed when she's in the middle of something. Was this a bad time?

Jonathan Lanus shows us what he thinks about taking this picture with one simple face.

Who is George Mitchell hiding from? And why is he making that face? George participated in the obstacle course at the SA Picnic which included jumping through openings in bundles of hay.

Some people are just so enthusiastic to get their picture taken. Mildred Brooks is one of them. Can't you just see it in her smile?

For four consecutive years, Kelly Cauley has been the pie eating contest champion and this is her victory photo. Congratulations Kelly!! We applaud you.

Aaron Adams chuckles as he daydreams about what he wants to be when he grows up.

Aprille Febre and Jack Buditwong spend a relaxing afternoon at the bell. Aprille smiles as the warm sun shines against her face and says, "Jack, is this for me?"

Is Jason Burton really in class or in his bed in Unruh Hall? Maybe he just wishes he could be there.

Can Heather Kelly look just a little more excited about going to class?

Raelinda Tooley and Tricia Rouse spend a relaxing afternoon at the bell and gladly smile for the camera as this wonderful memory is caught at the press of a button.

As you can see, BMA is doing a good job in training its students to be successful in all areas of life. That includes farming, as Derrick Heisey is proud to be a part of.

Looks can be deceiving, and Caleb Sigua is a good example of how that works. Just look at that face. How cute!

Dustin Small desperately attempts to shy away from the camera as he shouts, "Hey!" but realizes it's too late to stop the Echoes photographers from doing what they have to do.

"Here's looking at you, kid," Brandon Shobe says under his breath as he grins slightly to pose for what he didn't know was going to be a sophomore candid rather than a picture for GQ Magazine.

Heather Trout is busy preparing for the future; she's acquiring skills that she will carry with her even past the day she gets married - ironing.

Coach and Mrs. Kalua, from Andrews University, were our speakers for the Fall F.O.C.U.S. Week. Their interesting and, sometimes, humorous stories told us of God's unconditional love and His ultimate sacrifice for us. By the end of F.O.C.U.S. Week, many students were touched and converted by the Holy Spirit. We were truly blessed for having them here.

Coach Kalua explains to Cynthia Azolin and the rest of the student body a very important point about the battle between God and Satan. With his help we start to understand the true meaning.

Kevin Charlestream, a well known cellist on the BMA campus, performed a beautiful piece for one of the evening meetings.

Tiffany Scott smiles as she realizes that the words she is reading in the book, "Desire of Ages," are true.

Jeremy Shobe listens intently as Christina Cale reads from a book written by Ellen G. White. These books were given to us by Coach Kalua to ensure that we may gain an even greater blessing, and to allow us the opportunity to search for the answers ourselves.

Jennifer Sutton, the family group leader of the Children's Church family group, helps a young boy color the picture of a little bear.

This picture shows some of the family group members, Dwayne Hardware, Andrew Cupino, Seth Hannah, Ryan Christiansen, Chris Yeagley and Sonya Overton, helping out and actively participating.

During the month of October, the BMA church, led by Pastor Sergio Manente, held what is called a Reaping Campaign. Both the community and the students were invited to attend these powerful meetings. Many who went were both filled and renewed by the Holy Spirit.

Kerron Warrick and Joe Harris, both ushers and greeters during the Reaping Campaign, welcome all the guests in with a smile.

One Sabbath morning, Mr. Tom Buller displays his talent on the trombone during the church service.

Erin Allen shares the gospel both here and abroad as she preaches at the Lansdale church during Inreach Sabbath.

A hug is worth a thousand words. A friend is worth more.

The best bridge between despair and hope is often just a good night's sleep.

The best way to beat an enemy is to make him a friend.

Many things will catch your eye. Only few will catch your heart...pursue those.

It is difficult to say what is impossible, for the dream of yesterday is the hope of today and the reality of tomorrow.

One's best friend is oneself.

Don't overlook life's small joys while searching for the big ones.

What lies behind us and what lies before us are tiny matters compared to what lies within us.

When there is a hill to climb, don't think that waiting will make it smaller.

Kind words can be short and easy to speak, but their echoes are truly endless.

The race is not always to the swift, but to those who keep on running.

An aim in life is the only fortune worth finding, and it may not be found in foreign lands, but in the heart itself.

You cannot discover new oceans unless you have the courage to lose sight of the shore.

Don't walk in front of me, I may not follow. Don't walk behind me, I may not lead. Walk beside me and be my friend.

Friends are relatives you make for yourself.

*"A Friend" the first person who comes in when the whole world has gone out.
 A bank or credit on which we can draw supplies of confidence, counsel, sympathy, help and love.
 One who combines for you alike the pleasure and benefits of society and solitude.
 A jewel whose luster the strong acids of poverty and misfortune cannot dim.
 The triple alliance of the three great powers, Love, Sympathy, and Help.
 One who multiplies joys, divides griefs, and whose honesty is inviolable.
 One who loves the truth and you, and will tell the truth in spite of you.
 A permanent fortification when one's affairs are in the state of siege.
 A balancing pole to him who walks across the tight rope of life.
 A watch which beats true for all time, and never "runs down."
 One who to himself is true, and therefore must be so to you.
 The link in life's long chain that bears the greatest strain.
 A harbor of refuge from the stormy waves of adversity.
 One who considers my need before my deserving.
 The jewel that shines brightest in the darkness.
 A stimulant to the nobler side of our nature.
 A star of hope in the clouds of adversity.
 A diamond in the ring of acquaintance.
 A volume of sympathy bound in cloth.
 An insurance against misanthropy.
 A link of gold in the chain of life.
 Friendship - one soul in two bodies.
 One truer to me than I am myself.
 One who understands our silence.
 The essence of pure devotion.
 The sunshine of calamity.

Friends are the most important ingredient in this recipe of life.

If you judge people, you have no time to love them.

Friends are the bacon bits in the salad bowl of life.

We cannot direct the wind, but we can adjust the sails.

It's the friends you can call up at 4am that matter.

The bird a nest, the spider a web, man friendship.

The best mirror is an old friend.

I no doubt deserve my enemies, but I don't believe I deserve my friends.

Friendship is always a sweet responsibility, never an opportunity.

Tell me what company thou seapest, and I'll tell thee what thou art.

Best friends are like diamonds, precious and rare. False friends are like leaves, found everywhere.

One loyal friend is worth ten thousand relatives.

Don't ever let your heart talk you into anything your mind cannot live with.

Life does not require us to be the biggest or the best, it asks only that we try.

Success is getting what you want. Happiness is liking what you get.

People are like stain-glass windows. They sparkle and shine when the sun is out, but when the darkness sets in, their true beauty is revealed only if there is a light from within.

Far away in the sunshine are my biggest aspirations. I may not reach them, but I can look up and see their beauty, believe in them, and try to follow where they lead.

In the race to be better or best, do not miss the joy of being

Coach Bob Kalua gives Erin Allen new insight on the Word of God.

Miranda Weigley reflects on the dessert she once had at Leib's.

On September 5-7, a group of our leaders trooped to Camp Shahaqua in the Poconos for a weekend of fun, spiritual uplifting, and guidance.

BMA Leadership enabled our student leaders to get to know the faculty as well as each other just a little bit better. This weekend was full of both spiritual and physical fun. Activities such as "bam ball" Friday afternoon, a hike, and a walk through Boulder Field Sabbath afternoon gave them the opportunity to challenge their physical and mental abilities, while Friday vespers and Sabbath services, given by Coach Bob Kalua, from Andrews University, filled their souls with the Spirit as they learned more about the Word of God and how to become better leaders.

Coach Kalua taught them how to look into the Gospel for answers to questions unknown and opened their minds to facts never seen or thought of before. His methods of revealing the words of Ellen G. White touched many hearts and caused them to yearn for more knowledge and understanding.

Inserted between the talks were special music performances that each cabin, class officers, or organization performed. The vocal and instrumental talents as well as the unification displayed Sabbath morning filled their hearts with praise and adoration for the Lord.

These are just some of the reasons why BMA Leadership was an unforgettable weekend.

Denise Golden and Pastor Manente lead out in song service.

LEADERSHIP

To have the opportunity to gather with your peers to discuss how to better your life, the life of those around you, and the entirety of your school and campus is an obvious blessing.

Roderick Tooley, Tony Rouse, Jason Burton, Carol Corbin, Karen Corbin, Eun-Kyung Lee, Kelly Leach, Betty Treitel, Alyssa Foote, and Kerron Warrick embraced that opportunity with open arms at Union Leadership held at Camp Aetna in Hagerstown, Maryland, from October 2 to October 4.

Accompanied by Pastor Art Miller, Mrs. Louise

Corbin, and Principal Stan Rouse, these ten young people exchanged thoughts and ideas, problems and solutions, and the pros and the cons of each department they specialized in with students from all around the Columbia Union Conference. However, this was not the highlight. Most of all, they shared the gospel of Jesus Christ and kept Him as their main focus as different schools willingly participated in leading Song Service and supplying Special Music for all the many meetings in the agenda. This weekend most certainly proved to be spiritual, as well as educational.

Roderick Tooley is known for taking pictures, but how does he look when HIS picture is taken at Union Leadership? Nice smile!

Tony Rouse, Kerron Warrick, Jason Burton, and Kelly Leach ready themselves for the next meeting at Union Leadership by starting off with a snapshot of their best, "What do you think you're doing?" faces.

Ms., soon to be Mrs., Sylvia Obregon finds herself caught in a crossfire between Freshmen/Sophomore Hall and her partner, Mrs. Onales Hartman. She was unaware of the ongoing feud between the two parties. Ignorance is bliss, isn't it?

Wendy Escoto partakes in a candlelighting ceremony during the Girls' Club campout, which symbolized her appreciation of friendships.

Patti Ramirez and Eun-Kyung Lee prepare to produce a commercial for Mass Media. As you can see, this isn't your ordinary CK commercial. Decked out in their own display of unique fashion sense, they strut down Ellis Hall with their chins up. Eat your heart out, Cindy!

David Morgan, the speaker for the Girls' Club campout, concentrates on his sermon rather than the cold.

A ray of sunshine wakens Kester Edwards from his dreary sleep and greets him with...a sack breakfast?

Jay Beaven tries to pull himself out from under the covers as the sun blinds him and defeats his efforts. (2 minutes later) Jay is in the REM stage sleeping very contently.

Richard Mills should be the spokesman for "blueberry cake in the morning." Only if his eyes were a little bit wider...

What could this be? There were papers everywhere, books opened, confused looks on the faces of many seniors and one junior, Priscilla Frimpong, who came to observe this mess, and Mrs. Hallman alike... Oh this, this is just the beginning of the semester for those taking Government.

Talk about working! As you can see, Ben Lucas is a hard worker and is not afraid to get dirty doing his job. He gladly inspects the engine of the VW, with a smile.

Michelle Bernard stays focused on her duties as an employee of the library, transferring information about the book into the computer, while Jose Dorta stares blankly into...

Ted Rice finds other ways of keeping amused during classes.

Industry. This scene is quite familiar, for it is where many labor hard hours on two feet, five days a week. That is the case of Josh Gillian as well.

Mr. Cary Corbin gets a little nervous when speaking to teenagers so he pulls the old, "I'm not nervous, I'm just fixing my glasses" trick in his classroom.

You will most probably see some sort of maintenance machinery out on campus whether you are in a class, in the dorm, or maybe in the cafeteria as well. That is why our campus is so beautiful and well groomed. Good job guys!

William Hunt is a prime example of what it means to get your penny's worth. Here, he is working diligently to help pay off his tuition bill. If all the sons in the world were like William, maybe the world would be a better place.

Kevin Ross and Denise Golden compete in a high impact game of "Crab Soccer" at the SA Mixer.

SA Mixer

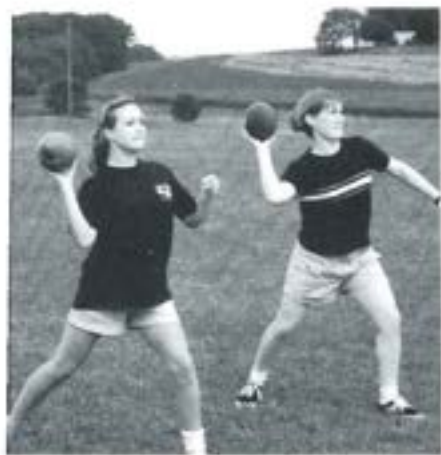

It was the beginning of the school year. For some, it was a time filled with faces of old friends; for others, new faces and unexpected memories to come. The pressure was on to meet new people and to start off the year "right." What better way to get acquainted than the SA Mixer organized by the Student Association (SA)?

The SA Mixer gives the student body the opportunity to get to know each other while having fun by playing games such as "Winkum," "Duck Duck Goose," "Crab Soccer," and "Smile if You Love Me". The evening ended with free ice cream as everyone gathered on the lawn outside the music hall for bonding experiences with newfound friendships and old relationships.

Look as those diesel girls here at BMA participating in the "Football Throw" at the SA Fall Picnic. And who says girls can't do everything guys can? Ellie Fellows and Karlee Marschner can. You go girls!

The competition was intense. The last event - "Tug-of-War." All day long, the juniors and seniors were neck and neck, and this was the final showdown. Who would win? You can see the determination in both groups, but only one could come out victorious...

The sound of silence fills the arena as Grace Cho strikes at the ball, her club whipping the air to cast a cool breeze onto the spectators in the stands...

Elissa Morello is next. Although her appearance may seem harmless, she is quite powerful with her stroke and comes down hard and heavy on the innocent ball...

And last but not least is Chad Benfer. He is a more aggressive hitter, one may make the assumption that he is under a lot of stress during the week and takes up "Golf" at the SA Fall Picnic to relieve some of that tension.

The pie eating contest is one of the highlighted events at the SA Fall Picnic. Kelly Cauley, Melissa Edwards, Melodie Stairs, and Raelinda Tooley "dig in" as they compete for their classes.

Jason Burton (Marcellus) and Jason Eyer (Pontius) sit at the table and discuss their next duties.

Eric Nagley! Now is not a time to sleep, you're in a play! Don't you remember, you're Senator Gallio?

Walter Ramirez (Quintus) stands up for what he believes in.

Kelly Allen (Lucia) waits for her loving boyfriend to return after a long separation.

Joseph Destin did an excellent job at playing Stephanos.

Robert Moldovan (Melas) is contemplating his next line. Hmmm...

Marcellus Gallio was a Roman soldier who was struggling with grief and shame. He knew that crucifying Jesus, who was an innocent man, was wrong. Although he had this knowledge, it did not stop him from casting lots for the robe of Jesus, while He was suffering on the cross. Marcellus, who unwillingly cast lots with a group of soldiers, won the robe and was provoked by the others to put it on. Hesitantly, Marcellus did so and at that very instant the intensity of killing an innocent man caused his mind to come undone. From that moment on, the guilt persistently haunted him and Marcellus found it hard to find inner peace. That is, until he found Jesus and accepted him as his personal Saviour.

CAREER DAY

The newest member of the BMA family is Coach Wilson who celebrates his first Career Day in Hamburg.

Terri Williams, Rachelle Hallman, Nirvana Seepurshad, and Michelle Bernard try out the equipment at B & W as part of the physical therapy session.

Samuel Yoo and Lisa Kim take a moment to relax after a long day of running around from session to session. They enjoy the comforts of the gym and its cozy metal chairs.

Phillip Laisi and Kami Munoz aspire to be computer programmers. They listen attentively as they learn all the tricks of the trade.

OUTDOOR SCHOOL

In nature drawing, April Sweet releases her creative energy on a small pumpkin.

FOR MANY, OUTDOOR SCHOOL WAS A TIME TO ESCAPE THE NORMAL PRESSURES AND ANXIETIES OF STUDY HALL, CLASSES, AND TESTS. THERE WERE FIELD TRIPS PLANNED WHERE A VARIETY OF ACTIVITIES WERE OFFERED RANGING FROM CANOEING IN NEW ENGLAND TO VISITING LONGWOOD GARDENS WHICH WAS ONLY AN HOUR AWAY IN PHILADELPHIA. IT WAS A DAY FILLED WITH ANXIOUSNESS AND EXCITEMENT. THIS YEAR, OUTDOOR SCHOOL WAS OUTLINED A BIT DIFFERENTLY FROM PREVIOUS YEARS. ALL THE ACTIVITIES WERE EITHER ON CAMPUS OR WITHIN A MAXIMUM OF A TWO MILE RADIUS. MANY ANTICIPATED THE NEW SCHEDULE AND WONDERED HOW IT WOULD DIFFER FROM THE OTHER OUTDOOR SCHOOL DAYS. INSTEAD OF GOING TO THE BALTIMORE

Mr. and Mrs. Buller teach a group of students how to make smores, and survive in nature in outdoor cooking.

Jonathan Francisco waits for the fun to come to him.

AQUARIUM, IT WAS THE LIBRARY RIGHT IN THE AD BUILDING TO LEARN ABOUT INSECTS AND REPTILES AND THEN ON A NATURE WALK TO BUILD ON WHAT WE DISCUSSED. CANOEING TOOK PLACE IN THE LAKE BESIDE THE MATTHEWS' RESIDENCE, AND ROCKCLIMBING WAS ALONG THE SIDE OF THE STONE WALL BEHIND THE GYMNASIUM. ORIENTEERING WAS TAUGHT IN A CLASSROOM WELL KNOWN BY MANY MATH STUDENTS, AND NATURE DRAWING WAS IN THE IA BUILDING WHERE STUDENTS CARVED PUMPKINS DESIGNED WITH LEAVES. THE THREE MANDATORY CLASSES WERE OUTDOOR FILM, OUTDOOR COOKING, AND GOD'S SECOND BOOK.

THE ACTIVITIES WERE EDUCATIONAL, INTERESTING, AND FUN. NEEDLESS TO SAY, OCTOBER 1, 1997, PROVED ITSELF WORTHY OF A DAY WELL SPENT.

Rod Tooley, Andrew Lupino, and Danny Cates take great strides to row their craft beyond Tricia Rouse, Laura Cates, and Raelinda Tooley.

Karey Foote looks on as Mr. Sutton makes practical use of a piece of rope in knot tying class.

Ben Fellows scales the north face of the gymnasium, during the rockclimbing activity. Next, Mount Everest!

Family group leaders, along with the SA president and vice president and accompanied by Pastor Art Miller and Sally Worley traveled to Southwestern University in Texas for a prayer conference early this year. They stop to pose for a picture in their stylish shirts.

Dana Thoman diligently works to sweep the dust and grime from the floor--for free!! This was part of the service she contributed while at the Prayer Conference. Hey Dana, you missed a spot!

Kerron Warrick and Eric Patch are sure to be winners with wives who love animals. Just look at them scrub Bingo! You go boys!

Here's Eric Patch again. We're going to start calling him Mr. Popular from now on. From dogs to windows--how did that happen?

Service is the rent we pay for being. It is the very purpose of life, and not something you do in your spare time.

Chris Yeagley, Cassandra Matthews, and Cheri Eglinger participate in a hands-on activity one Sabbath afternoon.

Tullio Montoya lets the "kid in him" come out on Service Explosion Day as he experiments with the effects of bubbles on toddlers.

Dean Barcelow concentrates on the mission that lies before him. Will he be successful or will he fail? Stay tuned to find out what happens next.

Whoever said pastors couldn't "dig in the dirt"? Pastor Art Miller is ready, willing, and able to confront any task with both hands. Watch out, here he comes!

Jack Bunditwong will do almost anything to beautify the Ad Building. This includes getting his hands dirty. Oh what a man!

Gateway

to the

Valentine's Day as you and I know it probably originated from the ancient belief that birds (particularly lovebirds) began to mate on February 14.

The 14th was also a designated feast day (until 1969, when it was dropped from the Roman Catholic calendar) to honor two Christian saints (at least one named Saint Valentine) martyred by the Roman Emperor Claudius the second Gothicus. There is a little bit of love stuff in this part, though—the reason Saint Valentine was killed (beheaded, actually) was that he continued to marry young couples even though Claudius forbade it. Apparently Claudius thought that married soldiers weren't as good as single soldiers.

On top of all that, in ancient Rome, February the 15th was the fertility festival (Lupercalia) in honor of the pastoral god Lupercus.

Through the centuries it all kind of got merged together, and the modern Saint Valentine's Day is a day dedicated to lovers, a time to exchange sentimental greeting cards and mushy words of never-ending adoration.

As we have grown and changed so have our ideas on friendship...

In kindergarten your idea of a good friend was the person who let you have the red crayon when all that was left was the ugly black one.

In first grade your idea of a good friend was the person who went to the bathroom with you and held your hand as you walked through the scary halls.

In second grade your idea of a good friend was the person who helped you stand up to the class bully.

In third grade your idea of a good friend was the person who shared their lunch with you when you forgot yours on the bus.

In fourth grade your idea of a good friend was the person who was willing to switch partners in gym so you wouldn't have to be stuck with Nasty Nick or Smelly Sue.

In fifth grade your idea of a friend was the person who saved a seat on the back of the bus for you.

In sixth grade your idea of a friend was the person who went up to Nick or Susan, your new crush, and asked them if they would go to the banquet with you, so that if they said no you wouldn't have to be embarrassed.

In seventh grade your idea of a friend was the person who let you copy the social studies homework from the night before that you had forgotten about.

In eighth grade your idea of a good friend was the person who helped you pack up your stuffed animals and old baseball cards so that your room would be a "high schooler's" room, but didn't laugh at you when you finished and broke out into tears.

In ninth grade your idea of a good friend was the person who went with you to that "cool" party thrown by a senior so you wouldn't wind up being the only freshman there.

In tenth grade your idea of a good friend was the person who changed their schedule so you would have someone to sit with at lunch.

In eleventh grade your idea of a good friend was the person who gave you rides in their new car, convinced your parents that you shouldn't be grounded, consoled you when you broke up with Nick or Susan, and found you a date to the banquet.

In twelfth grade your idea of a good friend was the person who helped you pick out a college, assured you that you would get into that college, helped you deal with your parents who were having a hard time adjusting to the idea of letting you go...

At graduation your idea of a good friend was the person who was crying on the inside but managed the biggest smile anyone could give as they congratulated you.

The summer after twelfth grade your idea of a good friend was the person who helped you clean up after the party, assured you that now that you and Nick or you and Susan were back together, you could make it through anything, helped you pack up for college and just silently hugged you as you looked through blurry eyes at 18 years of memories you were leaving behind, and finally on those last days of childhood, went out of their way to come over and send you off with a hug, a lot of memories, reassurance that you would make it in college as well as you had these past 18 years, and most importantly sent you off to college knowing you were loved.

Now, your idea of a good friend is still the person who gives you the better of the two choices, holds your hand when you're scared, helps you fight off those who try to take advantage of you, thinks of you at times when you are not there, reminds you of what you have forgotten, helps you put the past behind you but understands when you need to hold on a little longer, stays with you so that you have confidence, goes out of their way to make time for you, helps you clear up your mistakes, helps you deal with pressure from others, smiles for you when they are sad, helps you become a better person, and most importantly loves you!

MATTHEW,

The years may change a lot of things, but never the "love," "pride," and "joy" we experience from having a special son like YOU.

If only you could know how wonderful it is to: see you smile, listen to your humor, watch you grow up, and become your own person.

If only you could realize how many precious memories you've made for us.

If only you could know how many times we've been so proud to say, "That's our son!"

You're such an important part of our lives; so on your "GRADUATION DAY," we want to tell you once again how much we love you.

Congratulations,

Dear Danny,

You've always been a great adventure, even from the beginning some 19 years ago. Through Go-Bots, and GI Joe to Lego, calculators, then computers, we've had to run to keep up with you. We admire and applaud your drive and determination to achieve your goals. These four BMA years have seen you grow and learn many things, from farming to networking.

Now as you graduate and go on to the challenge of college and beyond, our prayer is that you keep God with you as your Partner and Guide.

We'll love you always.

Mom and Dad*

Dear Sandra,

Congratulations! This is truly your special day. We, as your family, are so proud of all your accomplishments that you have reached in these past three years. We know you still have challenges ahead and goals, but we also know that your spiritual growth will only get stronger. We look at this picture of your early innocence and we now see a person who has grown and matured into a Christian woman.

*Love,
Mom, Dad, and Joe*

If time flies when you're having fun, these past twelve years must have been a real blast--'cause they have really flown! We are so proud of you, Karen. God bless you as you pass this important milestone in your life.

Love,
Dad, Mom, and Carol

Everything is possible with God's help.

No summit is too high to reach with faith in the Lord.

To God be the glory for helping you to fulfill your high school program.

May you grow in wisdom and spirituality observing God's Word, keeping a very close relationship with our almighty God. Then He will make all your dreams to become reality according to His will. Be a man of prayer, a man of God.

We are proud of you.

Your Dad, Mom, Brothers and Sisters

Hi Aaron,

Very proud of your accomplishment. This is a great milestone to pass. I'll be here for you in the future. I pray God will continue to bless you.

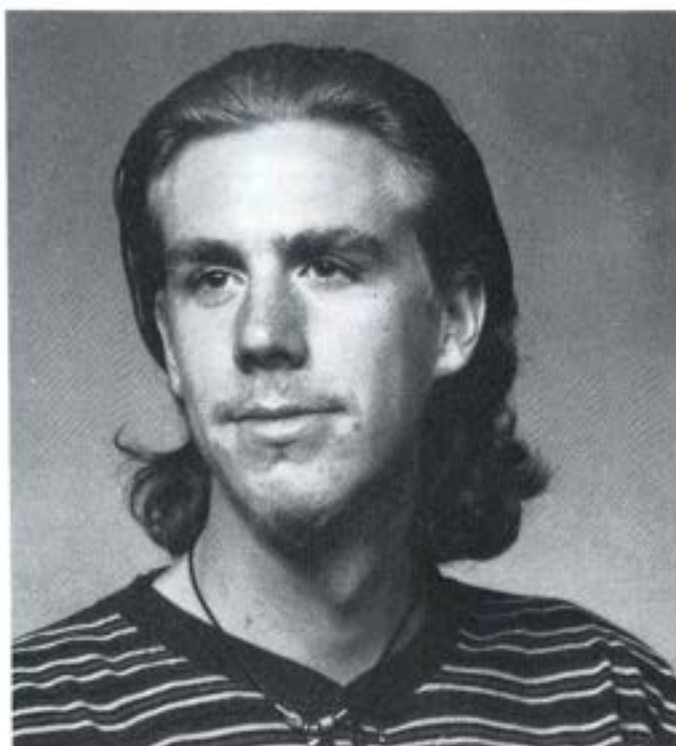

Love, Dad

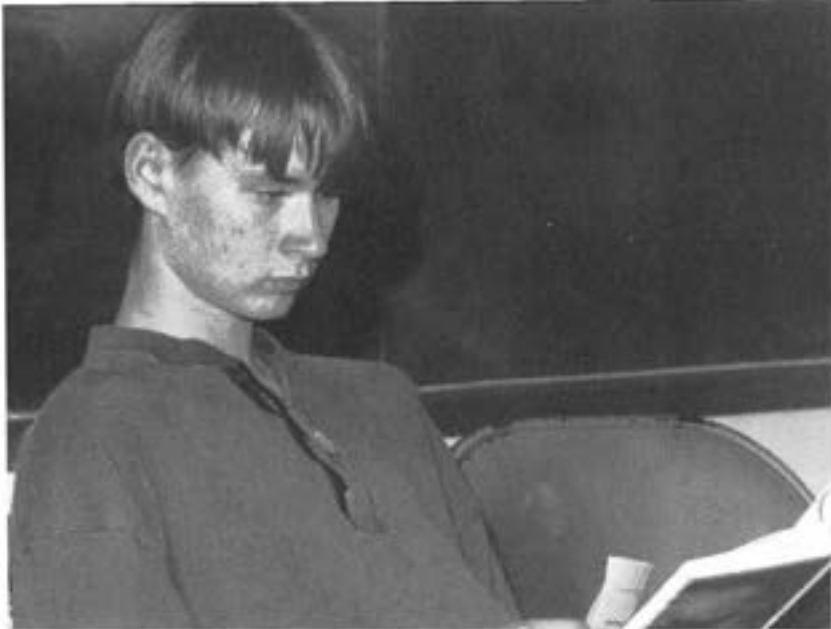

Dear Aaron,

I am so proud of the man you have become. You are a blessing to me.

I love you very much, and will continue to pray for you to "keep Jesus in your heart."

Love ya, Mom

You'd think that, as you get older, things would get easier. But it doesn't seem to work that way. There are always responsibilities, always obligations, and always the need to keep one eye on the future. That's when you're glad you have a bank you can depend on for everything from managing your investments to planning for your retirement. Maybe some things do get easier.

"Hey, Mr. MacFarland. What would you do for a Klondike bar?"

Speed Racer, Kyle Kennedy, attacks the rugged terrain of Mountain Road. It may not be a four-wheeler but it gets him around.

Arthur Creese, Cleah Furtick, Karina Hernandez, and Richard Mills look on in anxious silence as their class fights for the title of "Almost Anything Goes Champs."

Albert Cheatham performs a Christmas piece on the piano. He is really good at what he does. First BMA church, next Carnegie Hall.

Jerry Snell decides to go out and catch some rays as our photographer sneaks up and takes a picture.

Natalie Vega shows off her smile as she listens to the Sabbath School lesson. Look at those pearly whites!

Paul Weigley and Michael Betack ponder life's greatest questions during rec.

Chris Yeagley cautiously looks around before starting a game on the computer. Make sure Mr. Edison isn't watching.

Kimberly Miller, Pastor Fergie's faithful worker, squints down at the paper to make sure she graded it correctly. She's trying her hardest to be able to read the fine print.

Frankie Vazquez says a tearful good-bye to all his BMA friends. But before he leaves they take one last group picture. As they hug and say farewell, we can truly say "parting is such sweet sorrow."

Jennifer Foulke takes time out during her busy schedule to say hello to the world.

Kevin Charlestream and Nicole Roelker momentarily stop their conversation to say "Cheeeez" to the camera. Don't they have the nicest smiles!
